Patricia Wanger Smith : Southeastern Berks County (PA) (Postcard History Series) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Southeastern Berks County (PA) (Postcard History Series):

Every once in a while I get a 'dud'; but this one was all about the area I live in now [within a 20 mile radius]. Now I know what old building used to be when I pass them in town and along the road. . .

Berks County was established in 1752 from portions of Chester, Lancaster, and Philadelphia Counties, but its early settlers had already left their marks on the area. Southeastern Berks County covers a mythical trip between the villages Oley, Englesville, Exeter, Yellow House, Earlville, Amityville, Douglassville, Pine Forge, Little Oley, Greshville, Moreysville, Boyertown, Gabelsville, Shanesville, and Pleasantville. It examines why people settled here and how they lived, worked, and enjoyed themselves 100 years ago. The trip, taken through the medium of vintage postcards, may be traveled today by car.

About the Author Patricia Wanger Smith, author of Around Pottstown, is a graduate of Pine Forge Elementary School, Pottstown High School, and Hahnemann University. Her maternal ancestors were from the Oley-Pine Forge area, and she has been an appointed member of the North Coventry Township Historical Commission since its inception.
